these needs."

Their efforts include the Feel Good Lunches which have been provided by six vegan chefs that have donated their time and talents to offering fresh, delicious lunches for $5.00 and for each lunch sold at least one lunch is given free of charge, and delivered to residents that have lost everything to the recent hurricanes. "We have been going out every day for the past six weeks, delivering the meals and asking people what they need. Many just need drinking water, even still, they are so happy just to have some water." Mirpuri drives with a few helpers into the hardest hit communities, Middle Region, Dutch Quarter, Sucker Garden, Cay Bay, Fort William, Pond Island, and Over the Bank. As they go, they care for animals in need as well, and make notes for future trips of who is in need of what.
