

THE S

IN SEPTEMBER 2017 Hurricane Irma brought destruction to our beautiful island. It reaped havoc on our countries infrastructure, economy, educational system, working class, people it self and over all, it displaced the current direction of our sitting government.

Despite the destruction that came with Irma, she left us with a few great opportunities that many still fail to see. Irma brought us a chance to unite, a chance to share our thoughts and visions, a chance to begin again and this time to do it right based on what she has taught us. Countering the brief experience of her presence.

I promised myself that I won't go into the blame game or try to outline what most of us already know has not been had his controversies surrounding him, he never failed to let the country down.

Claude Wathey (full name Albert Wathey; January 1926 - January 1998), was a prominent politician of the Democratic Party from the island of Sint Maarten. He was knighted by the Dutch Crown for his political longevity.

Wathey championed political independence for the island in 1989, but was later convicted on charges of perjury; however, many on Sint Maarten felt the trial was nothing more than a witch hunt conducted by his rivals and adversaries in Curaçao and the Netherlands in order to break his monopoly on political power in Sint Maarten and to destroy his credibility. Despite this, he remains a popular
